D. S. KEMP & Co's ADVERTISEMENTS.

THEIR BUSINESS is under the management of D. S. Kemp, eight years partner in the late firm of ROGERS & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists; and has been specially organized for the dispensing of prescriptions, and the importation and manufacture of pure drugs, chemicals, and pharmaceutical preparations. Every appliance has been provided both in the laboratory and dispensing department to ensure correctness and rapidity in compounding medicine, and to facilitate the preparation of remedies of guaranteed purity.

The dispensing of prescriptions is carried on by a staff of trained assistants under the immediate supervision of the manager, and is controlled by a system of check which, he ventures to think, will secure public confidence.

MEDICINE CHESTS of every size and form; from the large regimental pattern suited for Contractors, to the small Leather and Oak chests for private use.

Persons travelling or residing at a distance from dispensaries should never be without one of these useful requisites, which may, at any time, be the means of saving life.

Exploring or Surveying Parties will find them invaluable; Chests are fitted when required with waterproof covers and straps for protection and portability.

Besides having these particular patterns made in England, D. S. K. & Co. employ their own mechanics here to alter or construct chests for special purposes as required.

In the absence of special directions from the physician, Kemp's Medicine Chest Companion, written expressly for the chests, supplies full and simple instructions for the use of each remedy.

THE DIGITORIUM with Exercises. Price Rupees 15.

This remarkable Invention enables any person to play and become perfect on the Pianotorte, Organ, and Harmonium in an incredibly short time.

By its use, the position of the hand and stretch of octaves are acquired. A few minutes practice on the DIGITORIUM renders the fingers and wrist light and stronger.

A wonderful saving in the wear of the Piano is effected by its use, and is invaluable where there is no Piano at hand.

A short daily practice on the DIGITORIUM will soon make up for long neglect of practice on the Piano.

Exercises are adapted to the DIGITORIUM by which the fingers move in 76 positions.

Its great charm is that it enables amateurs to acquire that equality of touch that is so essential to a good player. It removes that stiffness of the wrist, which is so often found in ordinary players, and which even professionals have found so difficult to overcome. The most eminent professors have testified to its great merits.

FIFTH REPORT OF THE COURT OF DIRECTORS to the Ordinary Yearly General Meeting of Shareholders, to be held at the Banking House of the Corporation, Hongkong, on Friday, the 14th February 1868.

To the Proprietors of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

GENTLEMEN,—The Directors have now to submit to you the General Statement of the Corporation's affairs and Balance Sheet, for the half-year ending on 31st December last.

The net Profit for that period, including dlrs. 14,188.81 brought forward from last account, after defraying all outgoing and current expenses, deducting interest paid and due, and making provision for bad debts, amounts to dlrs. 392,659.21, of which, after taking out rebate on Bills not yet due, and writing off the whole of the outstanding amount of preliminary expenses, remuneration to Directors, &c., there remains for appropriation dlrs. 362,276.60.

From the latter sum, the Directors recommend the distribution of a Dividend of dlrs. 7.50, on the Paid-up Shares, and of dlrs. 1.50 on the New shares, being equivalent to six per cent. for the half-year or twelve per cent. per annum; this will absorb dlrs. 180,000, and of the balance the Directors propose carrying dlrs. 125,000 to the Reserve Fund, and dlrs. 57,276.60 to the Credit of new Profit and Loss Account.

If the foregoing appropriation of Profits be confirmed by the Meeting, the amounts paid as Dividend for the whole year 1867 will represent dlrs. 360,000, being equal to twelve per cent., and showing an increase of dlrs. 80,000 over the total Dividend (dlrs. 280,000) distributed for the year 1866.

The amounts carried to the Reserve Fund for the period embraced under this yearly review will aggregate dlrs. 200,000 (compared to dlrs. 141,700 carried to same account in 1866), raising this Fund to dlrs. 375,000 on 31st December 1867, equal to 12½ per cent. on the Paid-up Capital of the Corporation, independently of the sum of dlrs. 57,276.60 undivided Profits, carried forward on the above date as already mentioned—thus making up a total Net Profit for the year 1867, of dlrs. 617,276.60 (or 20·57 per cent. on paid-up capital) after deducting charges, expenses, and allowances of every description, and without including the rebate on Bills maturing after 31st December; comparing favourably with the corresponding result of the previous year, which amounted to only dlrs. 457,604 44.

The Directors congratulate their co-proprietors on the above favourable results, and have much satisfaction in pointing out the steady development of the Bank's resources, as shown by comparing the principal items in the Balance Sheet with the accounts published at the same period of last year; for example:—on 31st December, 1866, the Deposits and Notes in Circulation aggregated dlrs. 4,132,601·94. On 31st December, 1867, they amount to dlrs. 6,279,121.25. As these figures speak for themselves, the Directors have little to add to satisfy the Shareholders regarding the growing credit and prosperity of the Corporation.

The latter half of the year 1867 has been characterized by dullness of trade, and by great stagnation in local Banking business; the demand for money was considerably under what it had formerly been, which accounts for the great increase of the Bank's Cash balance on 31st December last, as contrasted with the amount on hand on the same date last year, viz.:—dlrs. 3,952,968.37 against dlrs. 1,941,515.90. It is to be hoped that a revival of general business may soon take place, and that the increased requirements of trade may develop new sources of Profit.

The Proprietors are aware that the other Banks have now returned to the system of buying and selling six months' sight Bills, which they had abandoned during the greater part of last year, and thus returning to the old established usance they have virtually sanctioned the reasons which induced the Corporation to keep aloof from a commutation as detrimental to the general interests of trade as it was purported to be to the interests of those Banks who had initiated and participated in the change. Far from regretting it, the Directors view with pleasure the resumption by all of a practice calculated to benefit the Mercantile Community at large, and they find in the position which the Corporation has acquired in the meantime with its constituents and in the considerable extension which it has occasioned to its Exchange business, an ample compensation for the cessation of the temporary advantages which the Bank derived throughout last year, from being the only large operator on the market for six months' sight Bills.

UNCALLED CAPITAL.

The Proprietors will no doubt be glad to hear that it is not the intension of the Directors to make any call on the 20,000 Shares of the second issue during the whole of the present year.

By the terms of Clause VII. of the Ordinance of Incorporation, the Government would have the power to insist upon the balance, now unpaid of the subscribed capital of the Bank, being called up on or before the 15th of December 1869, but the Directors do not see the probability of the Bank requiring more Capital than has already been paid up; they have in consequence applied to the proper quarters for a modification of the Clause in question, with a view to obtain a considerable extension of the period above-mentioned, and the Directors are in a position to state that His Excellency the Governor has kindly recommended the matter for the favourable consideration of the House Authorities.

SHARES—LONDON REGISTER.

A Register for the transfer of Shares has been opened at the London Office of the Bank, and in virtue of recent arrangements the Shares of the Corporation are now negotiable on the London Stock Exchange.

RESERVE.

The Directors have decided upon investing the whole of the Reserve Fund in Government Securities, and, in addition thereto, an amount of £100,000 is to be converted into Indian Government Paper, and appropriated to the general working of the Bank's Agencies at Bombay and Calcutta, as an available fund in margin of deposit and means of credit to facilitate operations in that direction, which are daily increasing in importance.

AGENCIES.

Special Agencies of the Corporation are in course of formation at Calcutta and Bankok, to be entrusted to the charge of two well tried officers of the Bank, under specific instructions emanating from the Head Office.

DIRECTORS.

Mr. George J. Helland has been appointed Chairman, and Mr. George F. Heard Deputy Chairman, of the Court of Directors, in consequence of the resignation of Messrs. Woldemar Nissen and Arthur Sassoon on their departure from the Colony. Messrs. Thomas Sutherland and C. T. Smith having also for the same reason resigned their seats at the Board, three of the vacancies have been filled by the election of Messrs. J. B. Taylor, Sol. D. Sassoon, and A. Joost.

According to the provisions of the Deed of Settlement, the term of office of two members of the Court, Messrs. W. H. Foster, Junr., and J. Meuke expires this day, but these gentlemen are eligible for re-election, and offer themselves accordingly.

AUDITORS.

The Directors have great pleasure in proposing the re-election of the present Auditors, The Hon. Phineas Byrne and Mr. W. C. Hunter.

MANAGEMENT.

The Directors wish in closing this Report to record their entire satisfaction with the zeal and efficiency with which the Managers and all the subordinate officers of the Bank have discharged their duties during the year 1867.

The services of Mr. Victor Kresser, as Chief-Manager, and of Mr. David McLean, as Manager of the Shanghai Branch, have been secured for a further period of three years, and the Directors take this opportunity of acknowledging that the eminent qualifications displayed by these two gentlemen, and their untiring exertions have greatly contributed to the success of the Bank.

GEORGE J. HELLAND,
Chairman.

A bazaar at the Robert Money Institution was opened yesterday, when a large quantity of fancy and useful articles were exposed for sale. On account of the reception at Government House the number of buyers was fewer than usual, but as it is proposed to continue the bazaar to-day and to-morrow it is expected that the total proceeds may at least equal those of former years. There is a large quantity of children's clothes for sale. It is hoped that the native gentry will come forward to support the cause of female education, to which the proceeds of the bazaar are wholly devoted.

ACCIDENT IN THE HARBOUR.—An accident that might have been attended with fatal consequences occurred in the harbour on Saturday evening last about 7 o'clock. It appears that Captain Gardyne, of the ship Whirlwind, was going off to his ship in a gig belonging to her, accompanied by Captain Field of the American ship Moonbeam, and Captain Hogg of the ship Statelie, and also the wives of the latter two gentlemen. On getting about half way to the ship a cotton boat ran into them. Before the accident occurred the helm of the ship's gig was put apart to make sure of going clear of the cotton boat. The tindal of the cotton boat, however, put his helm asterboard and kept his boat away and thus ran into the gig, cutting the bow of her and throwing into the water all the people that were in the ship's gig. Captain Gardyne laid hold of one of the ladies with one arm, and caught the gunwale of the native vessel with the other. He then felt his boat go from under him and was dragged into the water with the lady whom he had hold if, for about five minutes or more. At the time of the collision there were two bags on the boat, containing Rs 939 in silver, belonging to Captain Field, and that money has not been recovered. The tindal and crew of the cotton boat rendered no assistance whatever to Captain Gardyne and the others during the time they were in the water, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the native crew were persuaded to let go their anchor close to the police hulk. When the boat was anchored, the water police went on board and took the native crew in custody. The ship's gig was afterwards picked up by the captain of an Arab vessel, and it is not known what became of the rupees, as the Arab states that when he found the boat floating in the harbour there were no bags or rupees in her; but this story seems rather improbable, as Captain Gardyne and the other captains state that the gig did not turn over or capsize.

All the parties were before the acting Senior Magistrate yesterday, but before His Worship proceeded with the case, Mr. Manisty, solicitor, who appeared for the owner of the cotton boat, requested that His Worship would be good enough to postpone the case for an hour, in order that the parties might have an opportunity of consulting among themselves as to what should be done in the matter.

A postponement was granted by His Worship, and probably the case will be amicably settled

THE PROPOSED NEW NATIVE GENERAL HOSPITAL.

THE following correspondence relates to the proposal to erect a new Native General Hospital on the Esplanade, towards the cost of which the late Mr. Goculdass Tejpal has contributed a lakh and a half of rupees:—

From A. T. CRAWFORD, Esq., Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay, to the Chief Secretary of State, dated 31st August, 1867.

SIR,—Mr. Goculdass Tejpal has requested me to take charge of, and forward to you, the accompanying letter, containing an offer to contribute the large sum of 1½ lacs of rupees towards a new Native General Hospital to be erected on the Esplanade. I have the honour to forward a compilation containing all the correspondence regarding the former offer of a Parsee gentleman to contribute 2½ lacs for the same purpose. The design and estimates for that hospital were privately prepared by Captain Fuller, R. E., will be forwarded separately, and have been duly approved. I earnestly hope that His Excellency the Governor, while recommending the Government of India to accept the present munificent offer by Mr. Goculdass Tejpal will be pleased to ask for a contribution from the State sufficient to finish the building and a renewal of the previous sanction to the payment of half the annual cost of maintenance. The urgent need for increased hospital accommodation in Bombay has, I am aware, been recently brought under the notice of Government by the medical authorities. It has also been prominently noticed by the Health Officer of Bombay in his report for the year 1866.

On the 10th Sept. the Acting Chief Secretary to Government acknowledged receipt of the above letter and enclosed the following reply for the delivery to Mr. Goculdass Tejpal:—

GENERAL DEPARTMENT, POONA, 10th Sept. 1867.

To GOCULDASS TEJPAL, Esq., Bombay.

SIR,—I have had the honour to receive and place before the Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council your letter, dated the 29th ultimo, offering to contribute a sum of Rs. 1,50,000 towards a new Native General Hospital to be erected on the Esplanade.

His Excellency in Council is pleased to accept your offer subject to the sanction of the Government of India, to whom the necessary communication will be made. In the meantime I am directed to request that you will pay the amount to the Accountant General.

I am further directed to convey to you the cordial thanks of Government for your liberality.—I have, &c.,

M. J. S. STEWART,
Acting Chief Secretary to Government.

To the ACCOUNTANT GENERAL.

SIR,—In forwarding accompanying copies of correspondence with Government, relative to a proposal by Mr. Goculdass Tejpal, to contribute one and a half lacs of rupees towards a new Native General Hospital, I beg at the same time to enclose a cheque for the amount payable to your order.

Will you be good enough to forward a receipt for me to send to Mr. Goculdass Tejpal and intimate the payment to Government.—I have, &c.,

A. T. CRAWFORD,
12th September 1867. Municipal Commissioner.

To THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT.

SIR,—In acknowledging your letter of 10th instant, with accompaniment, to the address of Mr. Goculdass Tejpal, I have the honour to report that I forwarded the letter to Mr. Goculdass Tejpal, who has this day forwarded a cheque for one lac and fifty thousand rupees in favour of the Accountant General.—I have, &c.

A. T. CRAWFORD,
12th September 1867. Municipal Commissioner.

A receipt from the Accountant General was duly forwarded to Mr. Goculdass Tejpal.

Extract paras. 2 to 5 of a letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 1828 dated 7th November 1867 to the Government of India.

Para. 2. Mr. Goculdass Tejpal, a wealthy Hindoo merchant of Bombay and a Justice of the Peace, has now come forward with an offer of Rs. 1,50,000 towards the building of the hospital, which he wishes to be called after himself, to be built on the site originally allotted on the Esplanade, and to be maintained by Government and the Municipality for ever. Mr. Goculdass has lodged the sum with the Accountant General.

3. The acknowledgments of this Government have been communicated to Mr. Goculdass Tejpal for his munificent offer, which, he has been informed, will be accepted by this Government subject to the sanction of the Government of India.

4. The estimates for the building, amounting to Rs. 2,50,000, which were prepared on the former occasion have been duly approved, and, in recommending the Government of India to accept the present offer by Mr. Goculdass, I am directed to request that you will obtain their sanction for the grant of one lac of rupees towards the completion of the building.

5. With regard to the condition proposed by Mr. Goculdass that the hospital should be maintained by Government and the Municipality, I am directed to state that the Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council is of opinion that the hospital charges borne by Government in this town are already liberal, and that not more than the salary of the surgeon in charge of the new hospital should be defrayed from the Imperial revenues, the maintenance charges being borne by the Municipality, and by such endowments as the founder may be induced to give.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT,
Expenditure—Public Works, including Railways.

To the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay,
Fort William, 30th December, 1867.

SIR,—In reply to your letter to the address of the Secretary to Government of India in the Home Department, dated 7th ultimo, I am desired to inform you that the Governor General in Council will have no objection to sanction the grant of a lakh of rupees towards the completion of the building of a second Native General Hospital, towards which Mr. Goculdass Tejpal has contributed 1½ lakh, provided the plan and estimate of the building are in the first instance submitted to, and approved by, the Government of India, to the Public Works Department.—I have, &c.,

E. H. LUSHINGTON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT,
Bombay Castle, 6th January 1868.

To the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward, for your information, copy of a letter, No. 1828 dated 7th November 1867, to the Government of India, and their answer dated the 30th of December.

2. You will see that the sanction of the Government of India to the grant of a lac of rupees is contingent on the plan and estimate of the building being, in the first instance, submitted to, and approved of, by the Government of India, in the Public Works Department.

3. As I believe the plan and estimate are in your department, will you be good enough to submit them as desired to the Government of India.—I have, &c.,

E. W. RAVENSCROFT,
Acting Chief Secretary to Government.

Municipal Commissioner's office,
Bombay, 18th February 1868.

To the Chief Secretary to Government.

SIR,—With reference to my letter of date 31st August 1867, on the subject of a donation of 1½ lacs of rupees by the late Goculdass Tejpal towards a new Native General Hospital, I have the honour to solicit that I may be informed what steps are being taken to carry out the donor's wishes.

The gift was made at my solicitation and the money paid through me. The deceased gentleman's relatives accordingly have asked me to obtain for them some information on the subject.—I have, &c.,

A. T. CRAWFORD,
Municipal Commissioner.

Letter from the Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay, No. 864, dated 18th February 1868—Soliciting information with reference to his letter No. 3083, dated 31st August 1867, as to the steps taken to carry out the wishes of the late Mr. Gokuldass Tejpal with regard to his donation of 1½ lacs of rupees towards the construction of a new Native General Hospital.

RESOLUTION.—Extract paragraphs 2 to 5 of the letter to the Government of India, No. 1828 dated 7th November 1867, and copy of their reply, No. 3201 dated 30th December 1867, as also copy of the letter addressed to the Secretary to Government in the Public Works Department regarding the plan and estimate of the building to be furnished to the Municipal Commissioner. Copies of the papers may also be sent to the Inspector General, Indian Medical Department, with reference to the correspondence ending with his letter of 10th August 1867, No. 2510.

* No. 23, dated 6th January 1868.

2. The Public Works Department to be requested to communicate to this Department when the plan and estimate of the building are likely to be sent to the Government of India.

EAST INDIA BANK.

A LAWYERS' SQUABBLE.

A MEETING of the shareholders of the East India Bank was held at the offices of the liquidators, 6 Elphinstone Circle, on Monday, for the purpose of receiving the accounts of the liquidation up to 31st January last, with a report thereon; and of considering a proposal for the purchase of the assets and liabilities. Mr. Hurrell was present as solicitor to the liquidators, Mr. H. Cleveland represented two native clients, and fifteen or sixteen native shareholders were present. A considerable time passed after the advertised hour before the proceedings of the meeting began.

Mr. Cleveland broke silence by saying that they had waited half an hour and ten minutes, and that there was not yet a quorum.

Mr. Byramjee Cursetjee Gandee (one of the liquidators)—Is it not an hour that we should wait?

Mr. Cleveland—I wish to ask in the meantime if this is a meeting of registered shareholders only, or of persons interested in the Company?

Mr. Byramjee—Registered shareholders.

Mr. Cleveland—But a great number of those who are on the register have sold their shares. I represent a person who is the owner of 400 shares, but who has not been allowed to have them transferred into his name; and I presume the liquidators would like him to be shut out from this meeting, while the people who are permitted to vote on the affairs of the Company are those who have no interest in it. Those who have an interest in the Company are, in fact, to be excluded. Now that is a curious way of managing a public company. My client has attended repeatedly at the office of the liquidators to have his shares transferred, and has always got a refusal; and if he seeks to obtain any information as to the affairs of the Company or to attend its meetings, he is told—"You are not a registered shareholder, go away!"

Mr. Hurrell said the meeting was not yet formed, and that he did not think it was competent for Mr. Cleveland to enter into a preliminary discussion of this kind with the liquidators.

Mr. Cleveland—I can make these remarks before the meeting begins.

Mr. Hurrell—You are perfectly at liberty to come and see the liquidators in private whenever you think proper, and to make whatever remarks you think proper.

Mr. Cleveland—And I suppose I can speak to the liquidators without your consent.

Mr. Hurrell—I object to your making remarks in this way at the present time.

Mr. Cleveland—I do not see what you have got to do with it.

Mr. Hurrell—I represent the liquidators.

Mr. Cleveland—You will allow me to say what I have got to say to the liquidators.

Mr. Hurrell—Not at this time.

Mr. Cleveland—This is the only opportunity I have had.

Mr. Byramjee (to the reporters)—Don't write down this private discussion.

Mr. Cleveland's managing clerk. (to the reporters)—Take it all down.

Mr. Cleveland—I have been instructed to attend here on behalf of a man who is the owner of 400 shares, and this man is excluded from coming to the meeting.

Mr. Hurrell—He is here himself, is he not?

Mr. Cleveland—And here I am told I am not to be allowed to take part in the proceedings! However, I shall make my observations as to whether this is properly a meeting of shareholders or claimants.

Mr. Hurrell—No person will object to that, but you won't be answered, that's all: so talk away as long as you think proper.

Mr. Cleveland—If it be a meeting of registered shareholders, of course those who are holders of shares, but have not been registered, are not allowed to come upstairs.

Mr. Hurrell—They have been allowed to come up.

Mr. Cleveland—But there are others still, and I ask whether they are to be allowed to come up.

Mr. Hurrell—Certainly not. The meeting is one of shareholders, not of people who have nothing to do with the Company.

Mr. Cleveland—But has a person nothing to do with the Company when he has bought a number of shares in it?

Mr. Hurrell—If he chooses to buy shares, he does it with a risk, and the Company do not recognise the transaction in any way.

Mr. Cleveland—Very well, I protest against any meeting of this kind; and I am sure that when it is brought to the notice of the Court, such a way of conducting a liquidation will not be allowed. The persons who are excluded are the very persons who have an interest in the Company.

Mr. Hurrell—If you think so you had better go to the Court and not come here and dictate to us. We are quite competent to come here and form our own opinions.

Mr. Eduljee Nusserwanjee Setna asked under what section of the Act Mr. Cleveland could be allowed to take part in the proceedings of the meeting.

Mr. Hurrell—It is at present merely a private discussion between Mr. Cleveland and myself.

Mr. Cleveland—It is a very important discussion, as to whether you are to allow claimants to come into the room or not.

After an interval, during which the advisability of adjourning the meeting was considered, Mr. Byramjee Cursetjee said he thought it would be better to proceed with the business, and this suggestion was followed.

Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee Bunshaw proposed that Mr. Byramjee should take the chair, and this was agreed to.

As Mr. G. R. Wilson (of Messrs. Brodie and Wilson) was proceeding to read the notice calling the meeting.

Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee asked the Chairman if all the gentlemen present were registered shareholders.

The Chairman (to the meeting)—Are all the gentlemen present registered shareholders?

Mr. Cleveland—I am not a registered shareholder, as I stated before. I appear here on behalf of one who is the registered holder of 25 shares, and who holds 400 other shares and has endeavoured to get them transferred into his own name, but the liquidators have refused, and he is therefore precluded from appearing at this meeting in respect of them. I also appear on behalf of Thackersey Narronjee, who cannot speak English, and has asked me to act for him. I maintain that I have a right to be present as representing those two parties, and if you turn me out of the meeting, I venture to say that the Court will very soon appoint other liquidators.

Mr. Hurrell—That is a threat, you know.

The Chairman—Mr. Cleveland, you understand much better than what you speak, I hope. We are just beginning the business, and no threats will be required. Every explanation will be given to the shareholders as to their rights, and every satisfaction to the best of our power as to what we have done, and what is expected, and whether we have disappointed them or not; and perhaps there will be time enough elsewhere to carry out your threats. I don't say this in a spirit of cavil or offence, but only with a wish to carry on things harmoniously.

Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee—I should like to hear the opinion of the solicitor as to whether Mr. Cleveland can be here or not.

Mr. Hurrell—My opinion is that he can't. I would not go so far as to advise the shareholders to exclude him, if he is simply here for the purpose of protecting the interests of his clients, but it is a matter altogether for their discretion. As to his speaking, it is decidedly irrelevant.

Mr. Cursetjee Sorabjee—Mr. Cleveland's client might speak for himself in the vernacular. All explanations will be given in the vernacular, if any shareholder asks for them.

Mr. Hurrell—Certainly, and the liquidators are gentlemen who understand Guzerati.

Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee—May I ask, then, whether the liquidators approve of Mr. Cleveland being present.

The Chairman—Well, I should certainly leave it to the shareholders to decide. Personally I have no objection to Mr. Cleveland being present to protect the interests of his client, but I shall not allow any but registered shareholders to discuss matters with which only the registered shareholders have to do. If Mr. Cleveland's client has purchased shares and not been allowed to have them registered into his own name, I can only say that we have exercised our discretion, on the best advice we could get, in the matter of registration; and if parties choose to purchase shares in the Company without being registered, of course they take a risk.

Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee—I have not distinctly understood you. Do you mean to say that Mr. Cleveland can be present here without taking any part in the discussion?

The Chairman—Not to take any part in the discussion. That I'll not allow. But if Mr. Cleveland wishes to remain here without taking part, he may.

Mr. Cleveland—Well, Mr. Cleveland declines to remain here on those terms, and if he is not to be allowed to take part in the proceedings you can use force to put him out.

Mr. Hurrell—There is a police chowkey near at hand, and an officer of the law would do that.

Mr. Cleveland—It is a very important question, for those who cannot speak the language and have so large an interest in the Company, whether the accounts are to be passed behind their backs by persons who have no interest in it. And it is also a very important question, which I should like to see decided, as to whether you can exclude me under these circumstances; and I certainly should do all I can to obtain a decision on that point.

The Chairman—As to the expediency of your raising that point I have nothing to say, but as to the wish of the shareholders to have what is going on at the meeting explained to them, that will be satisfied.

Mr. Cleveland—But they wish to get explanations in their own way.

The Chairman—Every explanation they want will be given to them, and perhaps the liquidators will be able to explain matters to the shareholders as well as any solicitor who does not understand the vernacular.

Mr. Cleveland—But it is the peculiar taste of my client that he wishes to have it through his solicitor.

The Chairman—Tastes should not be gratified everywhere.

Mr. Hurrell—I don't think Mr. Cleveland's knowledge of the Guzerati language is sufficient to enable him to convey to his client the information contained in the report.

Mr. Eduljee Nusserwanjee Setna—I do not see any harm in Mr. Cleveland remaining if he does not take part.

The Chairman—Nor do I.

Mr. Cleveland—But it does not suit my purpose to remain here and do nothing. My client wishes to raise certain questions as to certain transactions by the liquidators.

Mr. Hurrell—He is quite at liberty to speak for himself.

Mr. Cleveland—And why should I not be allowed?

Mr. Hurrell—He can, but you can't. The liquidators object to your being an interpreter between them and the shareholders.

Mr. Cleveland—How many are registered shareholders, I should like to know?

Mr. Hurrell—If you are determined to interrupt the harmony of the meeting I shall have to advise the liquidators to prevent your doing it any longer. I shall undertake the responsibility of that without very great difficulty. You know very well you have no right here, and [with emphasis] if you are asked to retire, Mr. Cleveland, you shall have to go. Now, do you understand that? You shall simply be asked to retire, and if you don't retire, then we shall make you retire! That's what we shall do.

Mr. Cleveland—You will do it at your risk. I shall ask the questions I wish to ask.

Mr. Hurrell—And I shall advise the liquidators that they run no risk whatever.

Mr. Cleveland—Then they may take your advice.

Mr. Hurrell—And I have no doubt they will.

Mr. Wilson here read the notice calling the meeting.

Mr. Cleveland—Will you allow me to look at the accounts?

The Chairman—I beg your pardon?

Mr. Cleveland—Will you allow me to look at the accounts?

The Chairman—Well, Mr. Cleveland, not you, but any shareholder.

Mr. Cleveland—Will you allow me, I ask you?

The Chairman—What do you want, Mr. Cleveland?

Mr. Cleveland—I ask to look at the accounts.

The Chairman—Yes. Come here.

Mr. Eduljee Nusserwanjee—Have the accounts been laid open for the inspection of shareholders?

The Chairman—Yes.

Mr. Eduljee—I have seen copies of the accounts and examined them most carefully, and have given explanations to those who came to me and asked for them.

After a pause,

Mr. Cleveland said—I may mention that these accounts are all in English, and that my client, who cannot understand a word of English, will be very glad to have them explained to him in the vernacular.

Mr. Wilson here read the following report by the liquidators, which the Chairman interpreted in the vernacular:—

LIQUIDATORS' REPORT.

You have been called together to-day to receive the accounts of the liquidators to the 31st January last, and the liquidators beg to submit the accounts with the following brief remarks.

The liabilities of the Bank as per the books when we commenced our labours, were—

In Bombay	Rs.	2,11,000	0 1
In Calcutta		1,03,633	9 9
	Rs.	3,13,633	9 10

These liabilities have to be increased by say Rs. 50,000, being contingent liabilities on shares, law and other charges. On the 31st January 1868 liabilities, say, Rs. 99,477-14-4 remain to be paid.

Assets handed to us.

2. THE SECURITIES.—We have realized a considerable portion of these and are gradually moving off the others as we find buyers. Some of the securities we have not considered it prudent to force on the market, but we are watching carefully, and shall avail ourselves of the first favourable opportunity of effecting sales.

BILLS, LOANS, &c.—We found on examination that most of the obligants were either insolvent or in such difficulties that it was impossible to obtain full payment except from one or two. Those debts have given us much anxiety. In all cases we have found difficulty in effecting settlements, but we have only cons

UPPER BURMAH.

(From the Englishman.)

We publish a letter of our Upper Burmah correspondent, dated Bhanmo, 22nd January, giving details of the first part of the voyage from Mandalay to Bhanmo.

On the 10th January, while at Mandalay, a Burmese official came hurrying on board the steamer with the news which he communicated to the captain, that one of the princes had succeeded in evading the vigilance of the watch the king keeps over the members of the Royal family, and had left the capital. The king was greatly put out by this event. Soon afterwards two war-boats raced past, their paddles flashing, and their crews shouting and screaming in a demoniacal manner; they were followed by several others. The crews all exerting their lungs to the utmost. Matters seeming to look serious, guns were loaded and looked to, and sentries posted. Some began to anticipate that these signs meant there would be a difficulty in prosecuting the voyage. In the evening revolvers were produced and loaded, and the party went to sleep wondering what would be the next move. At half-past two the war boats came rushing back amidst a perfect tempest of shrieking, and then all was quiet again. The next day it was discovered that all the energy and howling had been expended on a false alarm. On the 11th the ratification of Colonel Fytche's treaty was to be presented to the king. A rabble rout, of what looked like an army of stage supernumeraries, came streaming into the Residency compound, dressed in the most extravagantly grotesque fashion. Some of what were supposed to be the Royal guards had brass helmets, shaped after the pattern of a barber's bason, and a strangely shaped coat with large lappets and yellow facings, the tails of which flapped about the naked legs of the wearers. These warriors were armed with muskets which they carried with both hands. Behind them were a stream of ragamuffins on ponies which were covered with every possible variety of trappings. The tattoo of the leader was hidden under a wonderful saddle-cloth worked in gold, which reached nearly to the ground. After these followed two large elephants with grandees, and after these a buggy. The grandees had what was supposed to be a conference with the Resident, and then each one clambered upon his elephant or into his buggy, and the procession prepared to start. The Resident took his seat beside an old gentleman with a crimson velvet high-crowned hat, and then the whole procession filed off on its way to the palace. The mounted portion of the array looked like a cavalcade of Quixotes. Some of the party visited a caravan station of Chinese merchants who had just reached Mandalay from Yunan with copper, nuts, fruits, money, &c., &c. The caravan boasted some very fine mules and a number of enormous and savage dogs which manifested anything but a friendly feeling to visitors. The men were tall, muscular, and broad-shouldered. They evinced a decided objection to being weighed as well as to having their heads measured. They were perhaps afraid of what the natives of India call jadoo. On the 13th of January the party embarked on board the king's steamer to pursue their voyage to Bhanmo. After a little while there was a great uproar in the bows, where a party of Burmese commenced flourishing their sticks, shouting, and so on. The confusion, however, soon subsided. At Meengoon the party visited a large pagoda, an enormous mass of brick-work which took 20 years in construction. It was, however, seriously injured by the earthquake of 1839. It is now about 165 feet high. Its designers intended it to rise to a height of 500 feet; the natives have a saying that a fabulous wealth is buried beneath the ruins. Close to the pagoda is a large bell, said to weigh about 90 tons, and to be, save one, the largest in the world. It would seem to be about fifteen feet high, and is sixteen feet in diameter at the mouth, and more than one foot in thickness. It rings sonorously enough, but as it rests on some enormous blocks of wood, the full tone could not be ascertained.

TRAIN ON THE STUMP.

(From the London Review.)

The very insignificant personage who strives to make himself notorious at the complete sacrifice of self-respect has commenced to lecture in Cork. As might be imagined, the fact of his being arrested has sent up the value of what he calls his lectures, and has enabled him to take more money at the doors than if he appeared as an ordinary showman or declaimer. We cannot imagine for a moment that the sensible inhabitants of Cork look upon him as anything but an object of amusement or annoyance. In America he belonged to a certain set of persons for whom that country has room, who have a sort of license for peripatetic spouting, and who, being afflicted with an incontinence of language, are regarded with a sort of compassionate interest. For some time he traded upon his abuse of England. We would not have his tramways, and he went off at a safe distance to howl at this country for the entertainment of New York rowdies. When Anglophobia took the shape of Fenianism, Train identified himself in a cautious manner with the movement, and in fact has existed upon the reputation he acquires from getting his name into newspapers at any cost. It is with some reluctance that we play part of his game for him in alluding to him. He is as proud of a kick as of a compliment, and is irrepressible simply from want of shame. But our wonder is why, even in Ireland, a dozen persons will pay to hear the balderdash which he spouts. We have a report of his performance in a local journal before us. He is described as in full evening costume, "a dress coat with brass buttons forming a conspicuous feature of his attire." The "brass buttons" were suggestive, if not usual. To give any account of the lecture itself is simply impossible. The most completely muddled of Hyde-park preachers would have delivered himself more coherently. The brag of the man was, however, almost sublime. He really, from a long course of self-deception, imagines that he is of importance. His windy, wearisome nonsense was accepted by an audience described as respectable with unaccountable patience and even applause. The buffoon element seemed to prevail through the oration. He gave imitations of Lord Dundreary apropos of the governor of the gaol; he made the most idiotic puns; he told his hearers with native elegance, that he "was going to give them more for their money than any one horse-lecturer from Oxford or Cambridge." All this without point or purpose or relevancy; and yet we are told that Cork is one of the most literary and intellectual places in Ireland! It would be difficult for us to find a social institution to compare with Train in this country. The League would perhaps furnish as inconsequent talkers as could be found anywhere, but even the League orators are more intelligible than Train. His whole object, as far as we could gather from the account of the proceeding, is to remain as long on the boards as will satisfy the curiosity of the fools who are fools enough to lay out a shilling or two in hearing him speak trash, For any information or instruction to be got, one might as well listen to the talking fish. Irishmen, we trust, are too sensible to be led into encouraging so absurd an exhibition as the make-believe lecture of G. F. Train. They should remember that we must deprive them of the luxury of having the Government meaninglessly abused. It is not that we should care for what the creature might say, but that we do not want his roomsto become centres of disaffection, as they would in all probability prove if he were allowed to keep jabbering Ireland for the Irish. It is somewhat vexatious to exert the least force upon Train, because he at once commences to roar and make capital out of whatever is done to him; but just at present we cannot afford to allow mischief to be propagated, even while we sacrifice a little dignity in stopping its extension.

We can imagine it must be a sincere humiliation to Americans to find their country brought into connection with Mr. G. F. Train. Their consolation is that they must be aware that we appreciate him at his real estimate; but still it is not pleasant to have a relation of this kind claiming kinship with you. If he could put forward a single title to consideration, there might be some reason back of the buncombe on which he subsists. Oratory Mr. Train cannot claim as a special gift, and certainly not poetry:—

"Whether on the gallows high
Or in the cattle's van,
The noblest place for man to die
Is where he dies for man."

This is worse than anything we read in the Christmas annuals, bad as they were. His admiring reporter in Cork refers to his historical references as incomplete, from which we may fairly deduce that he does not know the date of the Conquest; though, probably, like Feargus O'Connor, he would be prepared to stand an examination against a Senior Wrangler. Of course no one could believe his assertion that he runs a chance of being elected President of the States. Political offices in the United States have not sunk low enough to find his level yet even as a member of Congress. We do not contemplate the danger of Mr. Murphy procuring a seat in the House of Commons, although he might receive the support and patronage of Mr. Whaley and Major Knox; and Mr. Train is in America very much what Mr. Murphy is here. At the same time, there is a significant lesson to be derived from the fact that Mr. Train receives any encouragement whatever. A fortune is to be made in Ireland by simply abusing our Government. It is a matter almost of indifference to those people whom we have so thoroughly estranged from us, who hires a room for the purpose of vilifying this country. Every expression of animosity is cheered and applauded to the echo. This is the feeling against which we must contend. This heart Fenianism is more widespread, and more difficult to eradicate, than the miserable attempts at rebellion which can be suppressed by a score of constables. Train feeds the sentiment with such stuff as he can recollect from books, and can invent out of his odd brain. He prates about Swift and O'Connell, Sheridan and Burke, as if he had a property in the use of those names; and so he has, for it is by them he raises the enthusiasm which keeps his audiences awake. It would be a great mercy to stop Mr. Train's mission, but then we might in effect help it in the attempt. It is best, perhaps, to let him do as he did in America—sicken the public thoroughly, until they will no more of him. He is three parts bore at least, and when the novelty of his entertainment wears off, he must play to empty benches. Then he is most likely to return, telling those whom he can get to put faith in him that he has roused and frightened the British Lion, and caused our Government to shake in its shoes. If he wishes for permanent employment here, he might take the situation of the late Mr. Finlen, who distinguished himself on the subject of the Fenian executions.
